

"NATIONAL HERO SERIES" NO. 3

Kosciusko—"The Greatest of the Poles"

NEVER in the history of mankind has there lived a more ardent lover of Personal and National Liberty. He fought with intrepid valor under our own Washington for American Liberty. He devoted his life to regain the ancient freedom of his beloved Poland. Kosciusko hated any legislative attempt which invaded the Natural Rights of Man. If he were alive to-day, every son of Poland knows that he would revolt at any LAW which declared: "Thou shalt NOT eat this—thou shalt NOT drink that." Kosciusko knew that the light wines of his native land and the barley brews of Germany were good for mankind when used in moderation. He drank them himself to the end of his honored days, and who will DARE say that they in any way injured this mighty personality. For 57 years Anheuser-Busch have honestly brewed honest beers. Their great brand—BUDWEISER—is sold throughout the world and has helped the cause of true Temperance. Seven thousand, five hundred men are daily required to keep pace with the natural demand of Americans for BUDWEISER. Its sales exceed any other beer by millions of bottles. Bottled only at the home plant.

Mr. Hilburn.

LOCUST COTTAGE, Ark., May 23.

Ed. Register—I have just received my copy of your valuable paper and note what you say about my article. Now, Bro. Ake, I don't know a thing about conditions in Colorado. Neither do I know there is a city of London. No more do I know the world is round. But I do know that you can't depend on the news (?) found in the subsidized press. You know that, too, brother. I have a daughter living in Denver, Colorado; she sent me some Denver papers. Also, a personal letter—or two. Then there is the testimony of John Kenneth Turner, Helen Schloss, and an eye witness, published in the Christian Socialist. An editorial in the Washington Times ends as follows: "If the business of organizing, hiring, and using armed forces were made treason there would very presently become a day in which such horrors as Colorado presents today would be unknown."

I also have the Appeal to Reason, a most reliable paper, which paper Upton Sinclair is now representing on the scene in Colorado. On the whole, I don't think I have written without due information. I have always made a habit of qualifying a statement on giving authority, unless thoroughly satisfied of its truth. No dependence whatever can be placed on statements in big daily papers where the money power is interested in having the news colored. You know that to be true, Bro. Ake, for the REGISTER has contained statements to that effect in the past, if my mind serves me right. Only the country press can be depended on to give the sickening details of a horror like that in Colorado where the Rockefeller's interests demand silence. Of course, there are honorable exceptions to this rule, but they are few and far between.

As to the article in the Christian Advocate, the paragraph at the bottom of the column in which the paper speaks of the scenes in Colorado as "the Colorado atrocious civil war," Webster defines "atrocious" as extremely heinous, criminal, or cruel, enormous, outrageous. I am satisfied with that definition.

I believe the facts in the case will place my letter well within the limits of truth. Respectfully,
F. P. HILBURN.

Dry Weather Starts Army Worm

The army worm is the latest scourge which is threatening agriculture in some counties of the state. Within the past few days, trouble has been reported from Barry, Vernon, Howard, Montgomery, St. Charles, Bates and St. Louis counties and with continuing dry weather it is sure to prove injurious in other parts of the state. The army worm is a native insect found in greater or less abundance every year. When conditions are especially favorable it increases rapidly. It usually breeds in pastures, meadows, bottom waste land or in rye and wheat fields. When dry weather cuts short its food supply, it is obliged to migrate in search of fresh food and will destroy any cultivated crop which comes in its way. The army worm, at this time, is about half grown and will measure from one-half inch to a little over an inch in length. It is marked with light and dark stripes running lengthwise of its body.

In the control of the army worm, prevention is most effective. If crops are rotated so as not to permit sod to continue in a field too long or so as to break up waste lands regularly, the breeding of the pest can be largely prevented. At this time, however, remedies and not preventive measures are necessary.

The Missouri College of Agriculture recommends two methods of checking the army worm. The one consists of the use of a roller, weighted brush or drag run over the infected portions of fields so as to crush or grind up as many of the caterpillars as possible. This method can be used only in a relatively few cases on account of injuring growing crops. The second remedy is a ditch used as a trap into which the migrating worms fall where they can be killed with coal-oil or by burning straw or similar material in the ditch. The ditch should be from eight to ten inches deep and can be made by first plowing a deep furrow and then using a shovel to square up the side next to the crop to be protected. The army worm is a clumsy caterpillar and has trouble in climbing up a straight wall. Hogs and poultry help to reduce the army. Spraying with Paris green or other poison is effective where it can be used. The pest usually migrates for from ten days to two weeks. It feeds rapidly so remedies should be applied at once.

Missouri farmers will do their communities a favor by reporting all outbreaks of the army worm to the Entomologist, College of Agriculture, Columbia, Missouri. Where possible, samples of the pest and a description of the fields and crops infested and a history of the work of the pest for the past few years, should be sent with the report. LEONARD HASEMAN.
